Dear Potential Sponsor,

We trust this message finds you well. The National Association of Community Development Extension Professionals (NACDEP) is a non-profit dedicated to improving the visibility, coordination, professional status, and resource base of community and economic development programs and professionals. Our mission is focused on extending research-based information from land-grant universities to the people of the US through informal youth and adult education. Our sponsors play a crucial role in supporting our work. Therefore, we are extending an opportunity for you to support and sponsor our Annual Conference, scheduled for June 17–20, 2024, in Houston, TX.

This conference marks a historic milestone for NACDEP, as Prairie View A&M University Extension is the first HBCU/1890 land-grant university to serve as the host institution for the conference. The annual conference aims to bolster human capacity and leadership, foster civic engagement, address local challenges, and nurture community decision-making processes. Our organization is committed to fostering equity within our communities and within our organizations. We have a rapidly growing cadre of members from Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs/1890s) and Native American-serving colleges (1994s), both of which not only serve under-resourced communities and individuals but are traditionally under-resourced themselves. Thus, sponsors are needed to help make this professional development opportunity available to our NACDEP professionals.

In addition to showcasing your products or services to our members, here are our sponsorship levels:

Thank you in advance for your support! Our sponsors play a vital role in making the NACDEP annual conference possible. If you are able to contribute to the future success of the conference, we value and thank you for your continued dedication to NACDEP as an organization, as well as our individual Extension professionals. Additionally, consider reaching out to your local state Extension office to discover the professional impacts of NACDEP in your area. Your support makes a meaningful difference, and we are grateful for your commitment.

Sincerely,
