

Building Capacity for Economic Development in Indian Country

Building Capacity for Economic Development in Indian Country Work team

Practical Practices

- Cultural values & teachings
- Bundles & gift giving
- Utilize language
- Tribal protocols
- Imagery & representation
- Go the extra mile

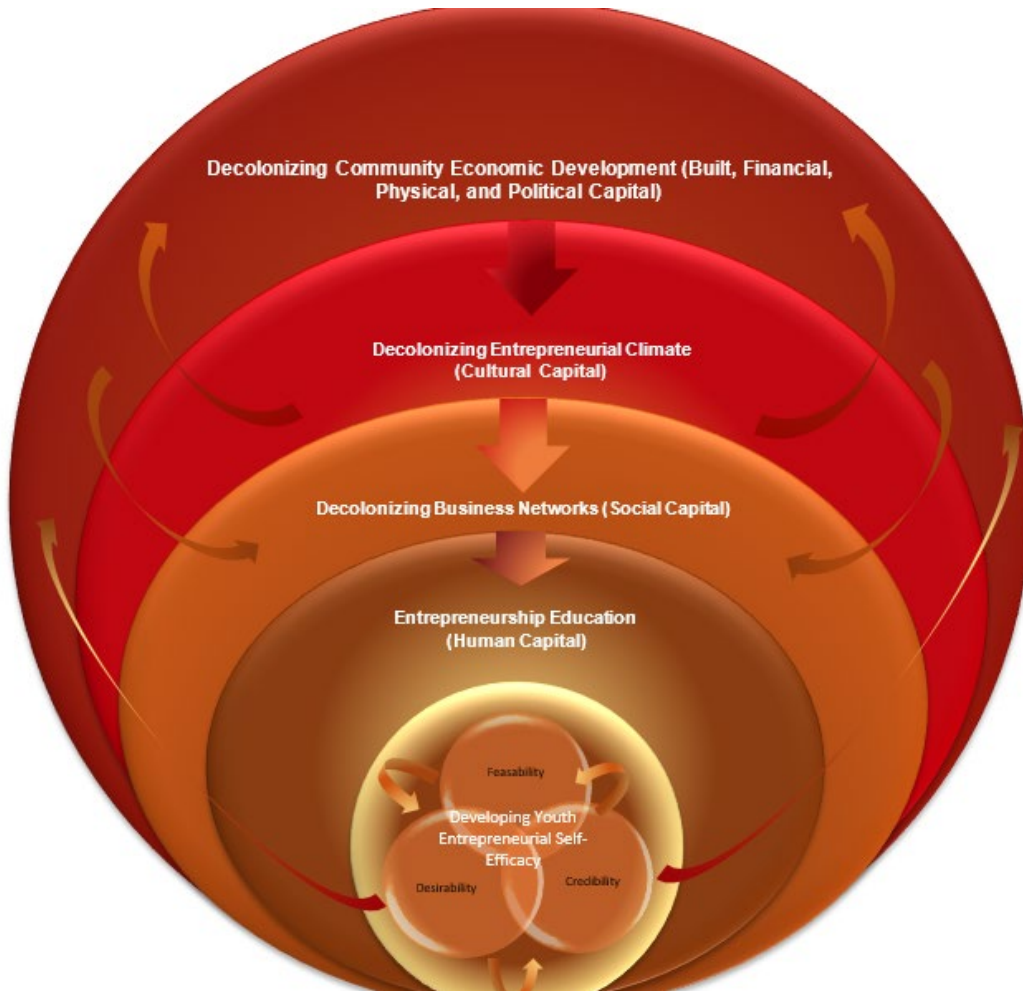

-
- Open Conversations
 - Indigenizing Economic Development in Indian Country Conference
 - Tribal College outreach and relationship building
 - Minnesota Indigenous Leadership Network
 - Indigenized Connections on Air

Decolonizing Community Economics

“Visually, these spheres of action can be arranged concentrically as shown here to replicate the growth process of civic engagement of a BIPOC entrepreneurs and workforce development. The block arrows represent formal information and resource flows between the various spheres’ of action.”

(Bhattacharyya, Lewis and Clevenger 2022)

Thank you!